COURSE DESCRIPTION

The workshop is designated for endoscopists and gastroenterologists but also for physicians in training as well as for GI assistants and nurses.

This course will include live video demonstrations permitting maximal interaction between faculty and attendees during procedures, evidence based didactic comments and lectures.

The procedures will be performed by the top international expert endoscopists in collaboration with the Hungarian faculty.

Two state-of-the-art lectures will be presented every day and illustrated by live video cases allowing comprehensive didactic sessions on almost all range of diagnostic and therapeutic issues.

In addition to the above mentioned themes, the Workshop will try to integrate into the program real, acute cases, not only prepared ones.

The experts should face patients with acute GI bleeding, upper/lower, or acute biliary pancreatitis/sepsis.

The aim of these demonstrations is not only to show the new devices and tricks for succeeding in each type of therapeutic procedure, but above all to explain clearly how to avoid the complications related to therapeutic endoscopy.
